Sec. 50E-6 - Process for Action on Permanent Protective Order.

- a) The Court shall set a hearing on a complaint or motion for a protective order within 14 days of it being filed. The clerk shall issue a notice of hearing and effect service of the summons, complaint, and notice of hearing through the appropriate law enforcement agency where the defendant is to be served. If the complaint requests an emergency protective order, then on motion of the plaintiff or on its own motion, the Court may issue a temporary ex parte order in accordance with the requirements of Section 50E-8 of this Chapter.
- b) The summons issued pursuant to this Chapter shall require the defendant to answer within 10 days of the date of service. Attachments to the summons shall include the complaint for the vulnerable adult protective order and any temporary protective order that has been issued.
- c) Service of the summons and attachments shall be by the chief of the Cherokee Indian Police Department or by the chief's designee by personal delivery in accordance with Rule 4(j) of the North Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure, as adopted by Section 7-14 of the Cherokee Code ("Rule 4"). If the defendant cannot with due diligence be served by the chief by personal delivery, the defendant may be served by publication by the plaintiff in accordance with Rule 4(j1) of the North Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure.
- d) The defendant may file a response that explains or denies the alleged Abuse.
- e) The Court may enter a permanent vulnerable adult protective order by default for the remedy sought in the complaint if the defendant has been served in accordance with this Section and fails to answer as directed or fails to appear on any subsequent appearance or hearing date agreed to by the parties or set by the Court.

f) If a defendant, named in a permanent protective order issued under this Chapter after a hearing, has not been served personally with the order but has received actual notice of the existence and substance of the order through personal appearance in Court to hear the terms of the order from the Court, no additional proof of service is required for enforcement of the order.

Sec. 50E-7 – Special Rules for Hearing on Protective Order.

a) Right to a Support Person. In a proceeding under this Chapter, a support person may accompany a vulnerable adult in Court and, if the vulnerable adult is not represented by an attorney, may sit with the vulnerable adult at the table that is generally reserved for the vulnerable adult and the attorney. The support person is present to provide moral and emotional support for a vulnerable adult who alleges he or she is a victim of Abuse. The support person is not present as a legal adviser and may not provide legal advice. The support person may assist the vulnerable adult who alleges he or she is a victim of Abuse in feeling more confident that he or she will not be injured or threatened by the other party during the proceedings if the vulnerable adult who alleges he or she is a victim of Abuse and the other party are required to be present in close proximity. This subdivision does not preclude the Court from exercising its discretion to remove the support person from the courtroom if the Court believes the support person is prompting, swaying, or influencing the vulnerable adult assisted by the support person.

b) Special Evidentiary Rules. The vulnerable adult commencing the action or person or Agency commencing the action on behalf of the vulnerable adult may move the Court for an order permitting a video tape deposition of the plaintiff be taken consistent with the procedures, conditions, and requirements of Cherokee Code 14.40-13(h). A video tape deposition ordered by the Court shall be admissible as evidence in establishing proof necessary for a protective order to be issued under this Chapter.

Sec. 50E-8 – Temporary Ex Parte Protective Orders.

a) Issuing a Temporary Ex Parte Protective Order. Either upon the request of the vulnerable adult commencing the action or person or Agency commencing the action on behalf of the vulnerable adult, or upon the Court's own motion, a temporary protective order may be issued ex parte under this Section without evidence of service of process or notice. The temporary protective order may include any of the protective orders described in Section 50E-5. The Court shall 1 issue a temporary protective order upon finding by a preponderance of evidence 2 that there is an immediate danger of Abuse which could result in injury, loss, or 3 damage to the victim before the defendant can be heard in opposition. 4 5 6 b) Time Limitations for Court Action. A request for the issuance of a temporary 7 protective order under this Section shall be granted or denied on the same day 8 that the complaint is submitted to the Court, unless the complaint is filed too late 9 in the day to permit effective review or unless the Court is not in session when the 10 complaint is filed, in which case the complaint should be filed consistent with 11 subsection (g) of this Section and the designated magistrate or judge hearing such 12 complaint shall render a decision within 24 hours of filing. 13 14 c) Effect of Defendant Appearance. If the defendant appears in Court for a hearing 15 on a temporary protective order, the defendant may elect to file a general 16 appearance and testify. The Court may issue a temporary protective order, 17 governed by this Section, or, notwithstanding the requirements of this Section, a 18 permanent order protective order if all requirements of § 50E-4 have been met. 19 20 d) Contents. Every temporary protective order shall: 21 22 1. Be endorsed with the date and hour of issuance. 23 24 2. Be filed immediately in the clerk's office and entered of record. 25 26 3. Define the Abuse, state why it is irreparable and why the order was granted 27 without notice. 28 29 4. Expire by its terms within 14 days after entry. 30 31 5. Give notice of the date of hearing on a permanent protective order sought. 32 if any. 33 34 e) Relief granted pursuant to a temporary protective order shall expire at such time 35 as a permanent protective order is entered or denied. 36 37 f) Hearing on Permanent Protective Order after Grant or Denial of Ex Parte 38 Protective Order. 39 40

- 1. If a temporary protective order is granted without notice under this Section and a motion for a permanent protective order is then made or remains pending through a complaint, the hearing on the motion for a permanent protective order shall be held within 14 days from the date of the motion.
- 2. If a complaint for a temporary protective order is denied and a motion for a permanent protective order is then made or remains pending through a complaint, a hearing on the motion for a permanent protective order shall be held within 14 days from the date of the denial.
- 3. When a motion or complaint for a permanent protective order comes on for hearing pursuant to paragraphs (1) or (2) of this subsection (f) and the plaintiff fails to proceed with a request for a permanent protective order, the court shall dissolve the temporary protective order if one remains in place.
- g) Temporary protective orders when Court not in session. The chief trial court judge shall designate at least one judge or magistrate to be reasonably available to issue temporary protective orders when the Court is not in session. When the Court is not in session, an action for a temporary protective order may be commenced under this Chapter by filing for such order before any judge designated to grant relief under this Chapter. If the judge finds that the requirements of Section 50E-8 have been met, the judge may issue a temporary protective order.

Sec. 50E-9 – Duration of Protective Orders.

- a) Temporary. A temporary protective order shall be effective for not more than 14 days from the date that the Court fixes, unless within the time so fixed the temporary protective order, for good cause shown, is extended for a like period or, if the defendant consents, a longer period. The reasons for the extension shall be stated in the order.
- b) Permanent. A permanent protective order shall be effective for a fixed period of time not to exceed two years, subject to termination or modification by further order of the Court either on written stipulation filed with the Court or on the motion of a party. The failure to state the expiration date on the face of the permanent protective order creates an order with a duration of two years from the date of issuance.
- c) Any protective order expiring on a day the Court is not open for business shall expire at the close of the next Court business day.

a) Renewal. A permanent protective order, including an order that previously has been renewed, may be renewed upon the request of a party, for an additional time period not to exceed 2 years, without a showing of any further Abuse since the issuance of the original order, subject to termination or modification by further order of the Court either on written stipulation filed with the Court or on the motion of a party. The request for renewal may be brought at any time before the expiration of the order.

b) Modification/Dissolution. A party may move to dissolve or modify a permanent protective order on written stipulation filed with the Court or on the motion of the party. In order for the Court to grant a modification or dissolution, the party or parties seeking such modification or dissolution must establish: (1) good cause for such modification or dissolution, such as a substantial change in circumstances; and (2) that the modification or dissolution will not result in a greater likelihood of the vulnerable adult being subjected to Abuse. If an action is filed for the purpose of terminating or modifying a protective order prior to the expiration date specified in the order by a party other than the protected party, the party who is protected by the order shall be given notice of the proceeding by personal service pursuant to Rule 4. If the party who is protected by the order cannot be notified prior to the hearing for modification or termination of the protective order, the Court shall deny the motion to modify or terminate the order without prejudice or continue the hearing until the party who is protected can be properly noticed and may, upon a showing of good cause, specify another method for Rule 4 service of process that is reasonably designed to afford actual notice to the protected party. The protected party may waive his or her right to notice if he or she is physically present in Court and does not challenge the sufficiency of the notice.

Sec. 50E-11 – Notice of Orders.

Cherokee Indian Police Department and the Agency shall retain a copy of the
